Supplementary Figure S4. Bland-Alman plot showing the differences between retinal thicknesses measured by the automatic and manual techniques. Mean difference (blue line) and two standard deviations (dashed red lines) are plotted with all differences (blue circle). Pearson's correlation statistics revealed a correlation factor of 0.82 between the two techniques with a maximum difference of 20.0 µm (90% two-sided confidence intervals).