Suppl. Fig.3 The connection between the stimulator and the cable
The male connector of the cable side has 8 pins (7 active) and is plugged into the female connector of the microstimulator (A). The cable is fixed to the stimulator using an external male screw of the female connector (B). To make sure that anyone can tighten the connector, it is designed in a way that it cannot be tightened unless the key grooves match.